

NATIONS DEMOCRATS

Concluded from first page.

"This is the paramount issue. No lesser issue, must cloud it, no unrelated problems must confuse it."

In declaring that the policy of neutrality is as American as the American flag, Mr. Glynn asserted that: "The first president of the United States was the first man to pronounce neutrality a rule of international conduct."

"In April, 1793, Washington declared the doctrine; and within a month, John Jay chief justice of the supreme court of the United States, in an epoch making decision from the bench whose realization would ensure universal and perpetual peace, wrote the principle into the law of this land. The Declaration of Independence had foretold it by declaring 'the rest of mankind enemies in war, in peace friends'; the Constitution recognized it; but the first president of the United States by proclamation the first chief justice by interpretation gave it vitality and power."

"Neutrality is the policy which has kept us at peace while Europe has been driving the nails of war through the hands and feet of a crucified humanity."

"The praises of this policy are not written in the ruins of American homes, not in the wreck of American industries, not in the mourning of American families; they are found in the myriad evidences of prosperity and plenty that make this a contented land from every whirling spindle in America, from every factory wheel that turns, from every growing thing that breathes its prayer of plenty to the skies, from every quiet school, from every crowded mart, from every peaceful home goes up a song of praise, a psalm of thanksgiving to hymn a nation's tribute, to the statesmanship that has brought these things to pass."

The issue raised by democracy's opponents of the vigor with which our neutrality has been enforced is dealt with by records of history:

"When Grant was president during the war between Spain and the Spanish West Indies, a Spanish gunboat seized the vessel 'Virginia' flying the American flag and a Spanish commandant in cold blood shot the captain of the 'Virginia' thirty-six of the crew and sixteen of the passengers."

"But we didn't go to war, Grant settled our troubles by negotiation just as the president of the United States is trying to do today."

"When Harrison was president the people of Chili conceived a violent dislike to the United States for our insistence upon neutrality during the Chilean revolution. When this feeling was at its height one junior officer from the United States warship Baltimore R. Joyce returned Sunday afternoon from California where he attended the school for boys at Pacific Beach. John R. is a favorite with every one in Carlsbad and no use to say we hope he will enjoy his vacation for he said that what I came home for. Mrs. Frank Joyce is now in Nashville, Tenn., visiting and she is expected home the last of the month."

Mrs. Wilma Nutt returned from Parkville College, Kansas City, Mo., where she has attended school for the past two years. Mrs. Wilma expects to return this fall. Her many friends are pained to have her home for the summer."

more was killed outright in the streets of Valparaiso and sixteen of our sailors wounded, of whom one afterwards died.

"But we didn't go to war. Harrison settled our troubles by negotiation just as the president of the United States is trying to do today."

"When Lincoln was president this country's rights were violated on every side. England, Russia, France and Spain were guilty of such flagrant violations that Sec. of State Seward advanced a plan to go to war with all of them at one and the same time."

"But we didn't go to war. Lincoln settled our troubles by negotiations just as the President is trying to do today."

"When Pierce was president the British minister in this country and three of his counsel violated our neutrality during the Crimean war. We gave these representatives of Great Britain their passports and sent them home."

"But we didn't go to war. Pierce settled our troubles by negotiation just as the president of the United States is trying to do today."

"When Van Buren was president a detachment of Canadian militia, during international troubles in Canada, boarded the U. S. ship Carolina in the American waters of Niagara river and killed an American member of the crew, firing the ship and sent her adrift over Niagara Falls."

"But we didn't go to war. Van Buren settled our troubles by negotiation just as the president of the United States is trying to do today."

"When Jefferson was president England seized hundreds of our ships and Napoleon hundreds more."

"When Adams was president France preyed upon our commerce. She extended her seizure, searches and confiscations to the very waters of the United States themselves until she had stored up in our state department charges of over 2,300 violations of neutrality's law."

"But we didn't go to war. Adams settled our troubles by negotiation just as the president of the United States is trying to do today."

"When Washington was president and 'neutrality' first declared war convulsed Europe our ships dared not to put to sea, commerce was paralyzed and business depressed. American passengers and American crews were thrown into prison and deprived of legal rights."

"But we didn't go to war. Washington settled our troubles by negotiation just as the president of the United States is trying to do today."

In concluding this issue, Mr. Glynn asks: "Do the critics of the present administration believe that Lincoln should have risked national disaster by using the sword rather than the pen in pressing the Alabama claims? Are they willing to brand Grant as a coward because he kept us at peace with Spain?"

"The Underwood tariff," declared the speaker, "enacted by this administration has banished greed from the gates of our ports and written justice into our tariff schedules."

"Of all the tariffs we ever enacted this is the fairest and the best."

"Until the foreign war reduced importations no new tariff was ever more satisfactory. The highest protective tariff ever written would probably have given us no more revenue during this European war and a higher tariff on raw material would have hampered our manufacturers; a higher tariff on the necessities of life would have placed a woeful burden on the poor man in the conditions which the war abroad has brought about."

"By the Underwood law this administration has taken the tariff out of politics; by the new tariff commission it proposes to take politics out of the tariff."

In the discussion of prosperity Mr. Glynn made particular reference to our industrial condition.

"Today prosperity shines from blazing furnaces and glowing forges. It echoes from busy docks and from thronged emporiums of trade. Its message of plenty fills the land with the chant of the spindle and of loom lifting the mortgage from the poor man's home and promising his children a future that seemed impossible before."

"During the past four years this country has experienced a steady and continuous improvement in business. Wealth has increased 21 per cent, the value of the manufactured products 39 per cent, capital 43 per cent, wages 54 per cent, and exports 77 per cent. The flood-tide of our prosperity has risen to such an unprecedented height that the only limit to trade is our ability to make and transport the commodities demanded at home and abroad. Our fields and our factories cry aloud for men and unemployment has ceased to be a problem. Wages have advanced, building operations have resumed, real estate has recovered its worth."

"There is not an idle car on our railroads or an idle ship at our docks. For the first time in history America's greatest port has become the world's greatest port."

"The purchasing power of our people is greater than that of any other people on the globe. Never was there as much money in our vaults as today. The aggregate resources of our national banks are three hundred millions more than the aggregate resources of the Bank of England, the Bank of France, the Bank of Russia, the Reichbank of Germany, the Bank of the Netherlands, the Swiss National bank and the Bank of Japan. We have four hundred and one million of money more than we had a year and a half ago and our gold supply exceeds by many hundreds of millions the gold supply of any other nation on earth."

"This avalanche of money poured into our pockets by the rest of the world as a tribute to our national resources and our fidelity to peaceful industry is not the measure of our prosperity. It is only the symbol. Compared with our trade at home this foreign trade is a mere pittance. Our domestic commerce today is larger than the foreign commerce of all the 'pauquos ppaou out jo souppu'."

Against this actual condition our opponents raise an argument of 'ifs.' With greater truth we can also enter the realm of conjecture and declare that if another candidate had been elected four years ago, the United States would be at war today. A ton of 'ifs' do not weigh as much as a single fact. Our opponents forget that 'if' the flight of the seagulls off the coast of the West Indies had not directed his course, Columbus would not have discovered America when he did. But the seagulls were there—'ifs' cannot banish them—and Columbus found our land."

Chairman Glynn concluded with praise for president Wilson, who he said, has measured up to the best traditions of a great office.

"He has been wise with a wisdom that is steeped in the traditions of his country, with a wisdom that has been disciplined by training and broadened by instruction."

"He has been firm with the firmness that proceeds from deep conviction, with the firmness that is grounded in a duty well defined."

"He has been patient with the patience which believes and trusts that truth crushed to earth will rise again, with the patience that can endure and wait, watch and pray, for the certain vindication of justice, humanity and right."

"He has been patriotic with a patriotism that has never wavered, a patriotism that is as pure and strong as the faith that moved the fathers when they made our country free."

"And when the history of these days comes to be written, and the children of tomorrow read their nation's story, when time shall have dispelled all misconception and the years shall have rendered their impartial verdict one name will shine in golden splendor upon the page that is blackened with the tale of Europe's war, one name will represent the triumph of American principles over the hosts of darkness and of death."

"That name will be the name of the great president who has made democracy proud that he is a democrat, and made America proud that he is an American."

"It will be the name of the statesman who has kept his country true to its faith in a time that tried men's souls; the name of the student and the scholar who has championed the cause of American freedom wherever he found it oppressed; the name of the patriot who has implanted his country's flag on the highest peak to which humanity has yet aspired; the name that carried the torch of progress to victory once and will carry it to victory again the name of Woodrow Wilson, president and president to be."

Mrs. Ed. Cass, of Lakewood, the three little girls, and Mrs. C. C. Cass and two children, also the little niece Katie Mae Stone, came up from Arno Monday where they had spent the past week visiting Mrs. George Stone, sister of Mrs. Ed. Cass. They reported a pleasant stay, the children enjoying rides on the donkey to the river where they all took a swim in the evening.

Frank Kindell, well known adventurer, Dare Devil Kindell, successfully rode his motorcycle across the flume Tuesday, and various snap shots were made, besides those that will be used for the movies. The pictures will appear in all the dailies and Frank will be hailed as an adventurer. One thing Frank never falls down on anything he starts to do.

U. S. Hamilton will occupy the Tomlinson home on the hill, when Mrs. Tomlinson leaves for her new home. They have made their home here for the past sixteen years, and they leave all Carlsbad to regret their going. Mrs. Tomlinson and Nannie will spend two months or more with relatives at Abilene, Texas. She is undecided as to where she will locate, but near some of her relatives.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY THE EDDY COUNTY INSTITUTE.

We, the committee on Resolutions, present to the teachers of Eddy county institute assembled, June 5th to 17th, the following resolutions:

Whereas: We consider the present session of the Eddy County Institute one of the most pleasant and profitable notwithstanding the intense heat, and

Whereas: We feel that our County Superintendent and his instructors have planned wisely and toiled early and late to that end, therefore be it resolved:

1st. That the great success of our Institute is largely due to the untiring efforts, the professional ability, and inspiring example of our conductor, Mr. J. B. Taylor, and that we are grateful to him for the practical demonstration of "Eye and Ear Tests," whereby the teachers may be able to ascertain any defects in sight or hearing of the pupil and take the proper steps to remedy them.

2nd. We wish to extend our appreciation to Miss Dorothy White, whose charming personality and practicality have made her work in music, primary methods, and domestic science a real inspiration. To Mrs. Howard, and Messrs. Knorr, Kaiser, and Kirk, the K. K. K. Klub, for their excellent instruction. To Miss Toffelmire for her spirit of helpfulness so manifest everywhere. To the Board of Directors for the use of the high school building, manual training shop, etc., and to the janitor for his obliging helpfulness.

3rd. Be it further resolved that we extend our hearty thanks to the Commercial club, for the pleasant evening spent at the Sweet Shop.

4th. Resolved: That we favor legislation for free text books as being cheaper, more readily obtained, and equally healthful after disinfection.

5th. That whereas, the salary of teachers is insufficient to enable them to provide for the future, and whereas the leading states of our country have passed such a law.

Resolved: That we memorialize the State Legislature at its next session to pass a law providing pensions for teachers who have taught twenty years, ten of which have been in this state and be it further.

Resolved: That we extend to Mr. Poore our thanks and appreciation for the interest he has taken in our work throughout the year and that we endorse the firm stand he has made for higher certification and that whereas,

The teachers of this convention believing that our state ought not to be second to any in the United States in educational standards, progressiveness, and efficiency, and believing that these ends may be best attained by a strong man at the head of the educational affairs of the state.

Therefore, be it resolved, that we desire the Democratic party irrespective of politics, to place in nomination for State Superintendent the name of one who is not a politician but an educator, a man who has had much experience in school affairs and who is amply qualified in every way for the office, but who has turned resolutely away from such a proposition and refused to have his name mentioned, Supt. W. A. Poore.

Be it Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the: New Mexico State Democrat, Santa Fe, N. M., Santa Fe New Mexican, Albuquerque Evening Herald, Albuquerque Morning Journal, Roswell News, New Mexico Journal of Education, and all papers of Eddy County.

MR. NUTT ASSISTANT CASHIER.

At a meeting of the directors of the First National Bank, held on Tuesday, Mr. W. E. Nutt was appointed an assistant cashier of that institution. Mr. Nutt has been long associated with the First National in the capacity of bookkeeper, and his many friends are rejoicing with him, over the merited promotion.

The necessity of the appointment of an additional assistant cashier indicates that the business of the First National is growing, and its stockholders are to be congratulated.

Dr. A. A. Bearup left Monday for New York and other points east. He will be away about three months.

Last Saturday J. B. Roberts closed a deal through Max Meyer, of El Paso, whereby Mr. Roberts sold to B. B. Posey and others of Lost Spring, Wyoming, 800 head of two and up, Mexican steers at between thirty-two and thirty-five dollars. The steers were on the 9K range and were being looked after by Frank Williams, Mr. Roberts' foreman. The close range and long drought had considerable to do with the low price at which the steers were sold. Mr. Meyer, who made the deal, is an old San Angelo boy and a friend of John Hewitt.

BELEATED TRAIN.

The train was over an hour late Monday getting into Pecos. The engine on the regular train was out of commission and the engine from the special train took the train to Pecos and back. On the return trip they were delayed for a time getting the twelve cars of steer yearlings loaded ready, when the train finally reached town it was about ten o'clock. There were a number of passengers on the train and all were tired out from the long wait.

Mrs. Wm. H. Mollane and Mary Elizabeth returned Monday evening from a two weeks visit with her sister, Mrs. Aubrey Gist and family, of Bluffdale, Texas, where they feasted on new potatoes, snap beans, peas, blackberries and fried chicken.
